

Collector Car Market Review

Information for Enthusiasts Who Think

Editorial Review: Collector Car Market Review (CCMR) provides readers with a comprehensive view of the collector car market, with an emphasis on 50s, 60s, and 70s collector, sports and muscle cars under $200,000. Not just another classic car magazine with the same rehashed reports and information, CCMR presents a unique mix of editorial that offers fresh perspectives into the merits and future investment potential of each model, and helpful insight into the market in general. Extensive, informative and entertaining auction reports, a new and exciting format for vehicle profiles, an in-depth look at all segments of the old car hobby, guest commentary, current market values, buying and selling advice, classifieds, and much more will grab readers' attention and keep them coming back for more.
